BEER

When you drink beer you patronize a great industry that has done much toward national recovery. The brewery labor payroll for 1939 was more than 78 million dollars. This is more than the payroll of many industries. It is 13 million dollars more than several large railroads paid in wages and salaries in 1938. More than 1 million people are off relief rolls or have better jobs because of beer.

GOOD OLD RHEINGOLD BEER is made under scientific control. Trained brewers guide the brew step by step, testing and retesting in order to bring out the best qualities of the choice ingredients used.

GOOD OLD RHEINGOLD BEER costs no more than ordinary beers. Try it today and learn why people say, "Once a Rheingold Beer Drinker—Always a Rheingold Beer Drinker."

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:
"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and odious, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farmwell Address.

We Salute the Cow
June is in its last week. And the friendly cow wraps her tongue about a thistle and swings her jaw reflectively while the prickly leaves slide down to the first of her seven stomachs.

The ending of June will be the ending of "national dairy month." But there's no need to be alarmed. The old cow will continue to swing her jaw. Summer's pastures will be green, and dairymen will be doing business at the same stand.

Dairymen throughout the country worked together in June to stimulate the public's consumption of dairy products. From the standpoint of health, every month should be dairy month. Our milk consumption, both by children and adults, is far below the level recommended by dietitians. In every home, milk should be an article of staple diet. The slogan, "Drink more milk," is sound medical advice.
So, while June and national dairy month are ending, we salute the placid cow, and drink to our health in milk.

Taxes Top Payroll
The Socony-Vacuum Oil Co., in one of the very graphic reports it is in the happy habit of furnishing to its employees, shows that in 1939 it had a payroll of $76,099,912 while paying $115,330,760 in taxes.
Ordinarily one doesn't think of taxes of this kind as "hidden taxes." Yet in a sense they are.
For where did Socony-Vacuum (or where does any other company) get the money it paid out in taxes?
Where else than from the people to whom they sold their products? People, then, who bought these oil products paid $115,330,760 in buying them which did not go to Socony-Vacuum at all, but which it simply collected for the government. Yet few of those people realized that they were paying taxes

at all.

At a time when a greater tax burden is about to be assumed by the American people it is just as well to realize that not a single person can escape.
In one way or another, whether he realizes it or not, everyone carries a part of the tax burden.

Not Invincible
The world stands aghast at the speed and the efficiency with which the nazi war machine rolled over Europe. It crushed Poland in two weeks. It flattened Holland in four days and forced Belgium's King Leopold to surrender eighteen days after the invasion began. It compelled the French to ask for an armistice in thirty-eight days.

Yet, the army of the third reich is not invincible,
for it is composed of humans. Humans well drilled, intelligent and inspired. Inspired by the conviction that der fuehrer is the greatest man of all time—a conviction that Adolph, himself, has fostered through his immense, detailed propaganda machine.

One of the duties of this propaganda mill is the spreading of the word that Hitler's army is invincible. Americans should resist the demoralizing influence of such talk. German weaknesses, of course, aren't advertised in nazi press and radio, but they are becoming apparent to military men. Each German weapon has its vulnerable points. Machines wear out. Each method of attack has its proper method of defense. Perhaps we shall see this demonstrated soon, in England. For Germany is not invincible.

Yes, We Can Move Fast
Within one hour after the Navy Department was notified that the new naval appropriation bill was signed, contracts were awarded and allocations made for 22 ships.

The dictators may claim to do things faster, but that's fast enough for all practical purposes.

This republic can move, and move fast when necessity drives, and the progress of the defense program shows it. The insidious propaganda being deliberately spread by foreign sympathizers is that republics can't move fast enough in this blitz-world. We are now in process of proving otherwise, and the clang of hammers in 50,000 forges is going to underline the proof.

Once roused, a democratic people under a republican government is the most effective force in the world, for peaceful progress by preference, but for fighting if they must.

50,000 Dead
Good luck has spared the United States from the fearful casualties which are sweeping the principal countries of Europe. But we have our losses, just the same, and there is now redoubled reason to try to cut them down.

Automobiles kill between 35,000 and 40,000 people each year in the United States. Industrial accidents killed 18,000 last year while almost a million and a half people sustained injuries in industry which disabled them temporarily.

One way to increase national production in the preparedness campaign: cut down this frightful toll.
The work of 50,000 men is worth preserving, to say nothing of the lives themselves.

To be safe is to be patriotic.

BEHIND
THE NEWS
By PAUL MALLON

ited.)

Philadelphia, June 26, 1940.—
The six-shooting delegate from Texas who complained there was not enough dynamite in the convention apparently did not know the inside on the fantastic bomb plot that was to blow the Republicans higher than a Democratic ideal.

The story was smothered for fear it would frighten some of the apprehensive lady alternates, but it was real enough to the state troopers, Philadelphia police and G-men who discovered about five bombs either located at or destined for strategic convention assembling points.

In reality the plot was never out of their control. A state trooper had long been planted among the plotters. So well did he do his job that he was among those designed to place one of the bombs.
To escape and spread the word to his superiors, he feigned illness realistically and was carried off to a hospital. From there he tipped headquarters and within a few minutes some of the disordered brains which conceived an explosive demonstration that might have been serious were captured.
The haste with which police had to act, however, permitted others to escape. Their radical identities were known.

This 1940 Republican statement of principles was built from the ground up. In the past ideals have slid from the top down. A few leaders usually arrived with complete drafts or planks which generally were accepted with a few changes of wording, but little alteration of thought. This time the original draft of the platform was left largely in the open hands of such experienced party men as Landon, Henry Fletcher, Walter
Edge, George Wharton Pepper
and Glenn Saxton. The Republican economic braintruster working with about 80 grass roots delegates on sub-committees.

But even they could not compose a platform that was acceptable to the full drafting committee. The full committee slapped back their handiwork and demanded two changes of the greatest importance: a former "keep us out of war" decree and the elimination of language in the social security plank that might have been construed as endorsing the Townsend plan.

Lobbyists for special business,
labor, farm and other interest groups usually swarm upon the platform drafters gave evidence of the new way things were going by their failure to appear in anything like their usual numbers. One drafter confessed with astonishment he had not seen a lobbyist
after the inside writing work started.

Behind the best guarded door
any platform committee ever had,
the drafters gave some inner demonstration that they are still an orderly folk.

Two leading objectors to the original international plank draft when it was presented to the full committee were Wayland Brooks of Illinois and the committee's temporary chairman Herbert K.
Hyde, the Oklahoma who has some fighting Cherokee blood in himself and uses it.

Landon vally taken back somewhat by the objections to the wording of the text he had brought in. He had not expected isolationist sentiment to arise in this quarter, at least not so strongly. It looked like their dis-ferences must develop into a weakening open fight on the floor of the convention.

A congressman on the committee whispered in Landon's ear that both Hyde and Brooks were outstanding speakers and might welcome an opportunity to present their case before the microphones. Furthermore they seemed to have a number of supporters around the committee table.

To keep the peace Landon folded his hands and sent the fond results of his long and arduous labor back to the sub-committee for fixing that would keep Hyde and Brooks quiet.

● SERIAL STORY

Ticket to Hollywood

YESTERDAY: Searching for Gusty, to return the ticket.
Francie goes to the studio, meets
Mr. Koon again. While she waits in Koon's office, a brash young man comes in, openly admires her, Francie is cold, haughty. The young man rushes her into Koon's office, orders the agent to introduce them properly. "This is Jerry Finney," Koon announces.

CHAPTER X
"COCKTAILS," Jerry Finney
ordered. Then, smiling at Francie: "They make a nice martini in here. Okay?"

Francie wanted to refuse, but she couldn't find words. Her head was still spinning from the suddenness of his invitation. Under the table she found a pin and prodded herself. It was no dream.
She was actually sitting in the Tan Hat restaurant lunching with Jerry Finney!

The cocktails arrived, pale and icy. Jerry lifted his drink, goldflecked eyes bold as they met Francie's. "Here's to your success."

Francie raised her glass, cautiously touching the liquor with the tip of her tongue. It burned like lye. She pretended to drink, then quickly set down the cocktail.

"But I told you I couldn't be on the program," she protested weakly. "I'm going to give my ticket to Gusty."

"The home-town boy?" Jerry snorted. "Don't be silly, Francie.
That lad's only trying to hog all the good angles. Come on, drink up."

"N-no, thanks," Francie quavered. "It's very nice, but I . . ."
Jerry said in confidential tones:
"You know, Francie, you've got something. I don't usually risk taking strange girls to lunch, but you're different. The minute I laid eyes on you I said to myself,
'There's the loveliest girl in the world.'"

"Oh, Mr. Finney . . ."
"Mister Finney?" Jerry mocked.
"Well . . . Jerry then."

"We're going to see a lot of each other, Francie."

Francie said shyly, "Oh, Jerry,
I, well, it's like a dream being here with you. It—it all happened so quickly I can hardly realize it."

Jerry accepted this adulation with a modest gesture that said all women felt pretty much that way about Finney.

Francie put food in her mouth,
chewed and swallowed; tasted nothing. Presently Jerry looked at his watch and apologized:
"I'm terribly sorry, Francie, but I have an appointment. I'll run you back to the hotel."

Jerry's scarlet roadster glittered with chromium. On either door was a gold crest with J. F. in big raised letters. When they stopped for a traffic signal, everyone turned to look. Engulfed in the leather bucket seat, Francie felt like a queen. She threw her head back and laughed into the sunny, blue sky. Life! She was drinking deeply from an overflowing goblet.

"I can't stop," Jerry said con-temptuously as they swept up to the hotel, "or the yokels'll be swarming for autographs. Like to do the Miracle Mile tonight?"

Francie had heard enough about the Miracle Mile to know it required an evening dress. "Can't we just get acquainted?"

"About 9, then," he said.
"About 9," Francie whispered,
ecstatically.

Aunt Hat bubbled over at Francie's miraculous conquest.
John Weston accepted the news
dourly.

"This Finney may be all right,
but I'd like to know more about him."

"Oh, Pops!" Francie danced about the room, cheeks aflame.
"He's gorgeous and a perfect
gentleman. And—just think, Pops, with all the girls in Hollywood mad about him, he picked me!"

"Hm, I don't know what to say, Francie."

Aunt Hat cut in sharply, "John Weston, are you going to deprive the child of—"

"I'll decide this, Hat. You may go, Francie, but be back by 11."

AT 8:30 Francie was pacing the veranda. At 10 Jerry's roadster, red into the driveway. "I'm late, Francie, but my valet took the night off, and I had trouble
dressing."

He wore a white mess jacket.
Francie thought he was the handsomest man she'd ever seen. They drove along Wilshire Boulevard
past the glitter of the Miracle Mile.

"We might have a drink and a dance at one of the smaller spots," Jerry observed with a doubtful
glance at Francie's dress.

Francie thought up a quick lie.
"I—I'd rather wait till my trunk arrives, Jerry. It has all my evening clothes in it."

He yawned. "I'm fed up on that stuff anyway. I'd rather make love to you, Francie."

Jerry parked by the ocean, spangled with moonlight, and put his arms around Francie. He was not awkward and shy like Gusty.
He held her tight and kissed her until she was breathless. It was marvelous, Francie kept telling herself. It was thrilling. But she was a little relieved when he released her.

"We'd better go back now,"

William Keithley Claims Southern Bride at Memphis

Tall cathedral tapers in branched candelabra cast a soft radiance over baskets of white gladioli and baby's breath banked against the deep green of palms and smilax before the altar of the Bellevue Baptist church in Memphis, Tenn., on Sunday afternoon for a wedding ceremony in which Miss Lydia Bruce Tilley, daughter of the Frank Tilleys of Memphis, became the bride of William Enos Keithley, Jr., of Naperville, Ill., son of the senior W. E. Keithleys of this city. Dr. Robert G. Lee performed the ceremony at 5:30 o'clock.

Miss Martha McLean, organist, and Frank L. Ricketts, violinist, were the nuptial musicians.

The bride's gown of white mousseline de soie, was fashioned with a camisole bodice and sweetheart neckline. The full leg-o-mutton sleeves were fitted from the elbow to a point over the hand, and the bouffant skirt extended into a long circular train.

Her French veil of illusion, sprinkled with tiny velvet bows, fell from an embroidered tiara of seedpearls, and she carried a white prayer book with a single white orchid, from which cascaded a shower of lilies of the valley. Mr. Tilley gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Helen Davis of Memphis was maid of honor, and Miss Reta Jean Keithley of Dixon, sister of the bridegroom, was a bridesmaid. They were identical models of angelica blue lace and net over matching taffeta, designed with bodices formed of row upon rows of Valenciennes lace, puffed heart necklines, and short, sweet sleeves. From a crest of natural flowers in their hair, fell a shoulder-length veil of matching net. Their bouquets contained Roosevelt and Talisman roses, yellow daisies and blue delphiniums.

William Enos Keithley, Sr., was his son's best man. Ushers were O. P. Gooch of Cleveland, Miss., uncle of the bride, and George M. Anglin of Jonesboro, Ark. They wore white, with belt blue neckties and kerchiefs, and boutonnieres of white carnations.

The bride's mother was wearing gray chiffon over chartreuse with matching accessories, and Mrs. Keithley chose delectable blue shadow print chiffon with white accessories. Their shoulder bouquets were gardenias.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. The lace-draped table in the dining room was centered with a three-tiered cake, topped with a tiny vase of valley lilies, and white tapers were lighted in silver holders.

Afterward, Mr. and Mrs. Keithley left on a wedding trip through Joseph Ottengheime, the bride's brother, and Philip Kehoe served the mass. Bouquets of garden flowers decorated the altars.

The bride was wearing a street-length frock of white sheer with white accessories, accented by a corsage of pink rosebuds and sweetpeas, and carried a white rosary. Her single ornament was a lavaliere worn by her mother as a bride. Mr. Ottengheime gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Eleanor Ottengheime, as her sister's maid of honor, chose white accessories for her black sheer dress. Walter Fassler was his brother's best man.

A wedding breakfast was served for the immediate relatives at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Bates. The couple will be at home temporarily with the bride's parents.

Mrs. Fassler was graduated from Amboy Township high school with the class of '35. The bridegroom, who formerly attended the Dixon schools, is employed by the Lee County Service company.

... James Halligan, pitcher for the Sparky team, was working under the handicap of an infected eye last night and it must have looked pretty black behind those dark glasses and that 8 to 0 score ... Lyle Myers is reported to have carded a birdie on Number four (par 4) at the Plum Hollow Country club last night ... when Jimmy Noakes took a recess from his announcing at the softball park last night, Tony Demijan, manager for the State Hospital took over and gave out some rapid-fire stuff ... Worth Windmiller thinks you should be told via this department that the mower has been working nights (every night that the hospital plays) in centerfield at the Airport ... vacation-minded lads are Rudy Wells and Everett Kested; one looks with interest to the Arlington track while the other hopes there will be no back lashes and that the fish like his lure ... tonight's threesome scheduled for Plum Hollow includes James O'Malley, Bill Shultz and John Shultz ... Cramer came home on his hands and knees as he scamped to score for the Freeman's club last night ... O. E. Rowley reports that the Rockford Social clubs are seeking return games with the James Billiards and Dixon girls' teams ... Herb Littrell and Earl Ketchner are being considered by several as likely candidates for the "most valuable" trophy to be given at the close of the softball season ... Charles Mason, pitcher for the Three Deuces, is a recent subscriber who watches the "kitten ball" games with interest ...

GROOMING FOR AMBOY

Assured that the Amboy team has improved a great deal since their last meeting, the Dixon Knacks are holding a serious powwow practice session at Reynolds Field tonight at 5:30. The locals defeated Amboy, 11 to 1, earlier in the season but since that time the new league members have won three and lost only one other.

TENNIS RANKINGS

Take a gander at the new ranking board which the Dixon Tennis club has erected at the high school courts. It's really a dilly ... and yellow and blue with a protected glass door and all. According to the latest rankings on the board George Covert, city singles champion, leads the pack of 27 members. Others in their order are: Ward Smith, Richard Joslyn, Alan Wieman, Harold Peterson, Howard Quick, Bob McNamera, M. M. Rosenberg, Bill Bowden, Bill Moser, Milo Bauer, Charles Kearney, Ned Sach, Ken Smith, Garland Sinow, Harold Minnehan, John Lapham, Henry Pollock, Fred Neubauer, Jed Mason, Wink McReynolds, Lynne Renne, Louie Wilhelm, Warren Lapham, Bill Goff, Bill Pontius, and Ed O'Brien.

POST-SEASON TOURNAMENT PLANNED

Tentative and sketchy plans call for a post-season invitational softball tournament at the Airport with 12 teams involved. Prizes are expected to be given for the first three places.

V. F. W. GAME TOMORROW

The V. F. W. hardball team is scheduled for a game with the State Hospital at the colony diamond tomorrow afternoon starting at 5:30 o'clock. V. F. W. players have been urged to report as soon as possible after 5 p. m. Long is a new candidate for outfield position on the V. F. W. team and is reported to be a nifty fly-catcher. Ardell Bugg has been shifting around and has also been doing some outfield work with success.

DIXON TEAMS TO WATERMAN

The Dixon girls' team will play the DeKalb Farm Bureau girls in the first game at Waterman Friday night. In the second game the Dixon High Life team will play the DeKalb Farm Bureau men. Members of the High Life team have been asked to meet at Jay Curran's at 7:00 o'clock for transportation.

BACK FROM THE NORTHLAND

Dr. Henry J. McCoy, Dr. J. B. Werren and William Nixon returned home last evening from a ten days' fishing trip in Canada and report very successful results. The "big ones" were not active at the early season and the trio were content with a nominal catch.

LOWELL PARK BEACH IS LIGHTED

It looked like the beach walk at Atlantic City last night when the lights were turned on for the first time at the Lowell park beach, thus completing the park board's latest project to protect night swimmers. The beach will be open until 10 o'clock each night with a life guard always on duty. No scenery-marring poles have been used to erect the 2,000-candle power lights and an excellent job of concealing them in the trees has been done.

Match Play Begins Today in State Amateur Golf Tourney at Danville

By TOM SILER

Danville, Ill., June 27.—(AP)—A field of 32, well mixed with seasoned shotmakers and youngsters seeking their first title, began match play today in the state amateur golf tournament over the treacherous Danville Country club course.

The schedule provides for two rounds today, reducing the contenders from 32 to eight and setting the stage for Friday's quarter finals and semi-finals. George Dawson, defending champion and medalist yesterday with a dazzling 27 hole score of 103, faced a tough first round opponent in Tom Cooley of Kankakee who qualified with 113.

The field is thick with serious contenders for the crown, including three stars who have won the championship five times in the past nine years.

Medalist

Warren Dawson, brother of George and the titleholder in 1931 and 1932, engages Dale Wallace of Galesburg. Warren earned a berth with a medal score of 110, one stroke better than the total of Larry Moller, Quincy star who won the title in 1934 and 1937. Moller's first round opponent was T. J. Doyle, Jacksonville.

The third ex champion is Don Armstrong of Aurora who battled Ken Oglesby of Vandalia. Armstrong used 114 strokes yesterday to Oglesby's 112.

Runner up to Dawson for the medal was Jerome Barber of Peoria, who had a one over par 108. His initial match play rival was Skip Carlson of Galesburg.

One of the first day casualties was John Hobart, the 1935 champion who missed the title flight by shooting 117. Another was Jim Frisina of Taylorville, experienced competitor, who matched Hobart's performance.

The first round pairings: George Dawson, Chicago (103) vs Tom Cooley, Kankakee (113), vs Louis Triller, Aurora (112), vs Arnold Minkley, Chicago (114), vs Warren Dawson, Chicago (110) vs Dale Wallace, Galesburg (114), vs William MacKenzie, Springfield (112) vs William Ennis, Chicago (115), vs Kearn Slowe, Springfield (110) vs Gus Moreland, Peoria (113), vs George Bictor, Chicago (112) vs Art Floberg, Rockford (115), vs Jay Draskler, Peoria (111).

TWO FAVORITES APPEAR TO BE WELL SPOTTED IN DRAW OF COLLEGIATE GOLF MEET

Manchester, Vt., June 27—(AP)

Two of the ranking favorites appeared to be well spotted in the draw today as the National Collegiate A. A. golf championship tournament, now blessed by the promise of fair weather after three days of heavy rain, entered the second-round match play stage at Elkwonok.

Johnny Burke of Georgetown, 1938 champion, and Lee Ramsel of Louisiana State, one of last year's quarter-finalists, were so well placed in the upper half of the draw that their golfing paths could not cross until the current field of 32, representing 25 widely-scattered colleges, was reduced to eight for tomorrow's fourth-round matches.

The other 1939 quarter-finalists—"Skip" Alexander of Duke and Bert McDowell of Louisiana State—appeared to be heading for a third-round clash this afternoon, as did Bill Cordingley of Harvard and Bill Hall of Iowa State, who was one of the last four survivors at Des Moines a year ago.

The third consecutive rainy day interfered with yesterday's plans for the completion of the first two rounds. So tournament officials reduced the semi-final matches from 36 to 18 holes and re-scheduled them for tomorrow afternoon Saturday's final, however, will be a double-round affair.

Games Tomorrow Night

I. N. U. vs Three Deuces.

Kellers vs United Cigar.

The Freemans softball team used a sharp-toe boot to oust the Sparky club, 8 to 0, at the Airport diamond last night and in the nighttime game the State Hospital showed the Moose Lodge a new kind of ritual with a fantastic 20 to 5 climax.

There wasn't much fun in either game from the spectators' viewpoint, but Williams, the Freeman pitcher turned in a finished performance and it was a pleasure to watch his work, if that of none other. Williams permitted the Sparky lads only four scattered hits and none reached second base in the first five innings. He walked only one and struck out five. The Freeman boys backed him well in the field with a minimum of errors to shut out the ambitious Sparky crew.

Two Runs Score

The winners scored two runs in the first inning on a single by Cramer, an error and a sacrifice fly. Cramer was walked in the third inning and scored on Pitman's hit and an error in left field. Reynolds' home run as the first man up in the fourth inning climaxed the game.

Two runs scored in the fifth on Pitman's hits, singles by Kuhn and Ketchner, a walk and three costly errors.

Gibson was given free transportation to start the sixth frame and scored on an error by the third baseman. Woodridge singles and scored on another error by the same sacker.

Cramer's sensation catch around his shoe strings highlighted the fielding and ended the game.

Halligan was the losing mound-er and he allowed nine hits, walked three and struck out two.

TRACK MEET

With black dots to signify runs, the scorekeeper's book for the second game last night looked as if it had the spotted fever as the State Hospital plagued the Moose Lodge, 20 to 5, in anything but an interesting game. One result, certainly, will be to give the winners' batting averages a sensational boost.

In the third inning 19 men came to bat for the hospital and 15 runs were scored off of nine hits.

Ruva of the hospital got the first hit of the game, a triple to center field, and scored on an infield play. In the last of the same inning (the first) the Moose boys knotted the count when Saunders romped the bases on three errors.

Safe on an Error

Wilmoski was safe on an error to start the second and scored after an infield play. The lodge lads took the lead with three runs scored on a walk, singles by Bob Schumaker, Welty and Beatey and one error.

But then came the third—and the Moose were skinned alive with 15 runs chalked up by the hospital crew. After that nothing else seemed to matter.

The Moose used Newcomer and Fessler on the mound and the latter did a good job of holding the hospital after the third and managed to strike out five in four innings although he walked six and allowed only one hit.

Giants and Cardinals Put on Show to Rival any Broadway Spectacle

By JUDSON BAILEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

In the days when the New York Yankees were burning up every thing in baseball, National League fans used to defend their interests by saying they got more for their money than the American League's customers.

Well, the Yanks are different, and the American League race is different, but the National League fans still get more excitement. It may not be baseball, but it's good, clean fun.

In New York, for instance, the Giants and St. Louis Cardinals came up with a ten-inning 10-9 bit of vaudeville last night just 24 hours after the Dodgers and Chicago Cubs put on a 13-inning skit across the river in Brooklyn.

There were five home runs in the game and 13 runs scored in one inning, the seventh, after which the whole issue still had to be decided because the score was tied at nine all.

No Broadway show has had a more dramatic climax. The Giants loaded the bases in the ninth and failed to score. They did it again in the tenth. This time Pincus hit Johnny McCarthy drove home the winning run with a single—his first hit of the year!

Also Packed With Action

Even the doubleheader between the last-place Phillies and the plodding Pittsburgh Pirates was packed with action. Cy Blanton and Joe Bowman matched seventh pitching in the first game, and Johnny Rizzo, a former Pirate, brought the Phils a 4-2 victory by homering with one on in the eighth.

Then, in the second game, the Pirates punched out five runs in the second inning and won, 11-6, with a 14-hit attack that included two home runs by Spud Davis, a former Phil, Vince DiMaggio for whom Pittsburgh gave up Rizzo, hit one in each game.

The Yankees managed to stop their latest losing streak at four when they defeated the Boston Red Sox, 4 to 3, in a game that was marked by the fastest trotting mile of the year.

Blackstone, a four-year-old son of Volomite, reeled off the third heat of the $2,400 trotting club stake in 1:59. Driven by Dr. H. M. Parsall, Blackstone won the first heat in 2:03.

Spud Hanover, driven by Harry Pownall, won both heats of the third division trotting stake in 2:05 and 2:06.

Steward and Peter Silk each won a heat of the 24 trot but Steward finished second in first dash while the best Peter Silk could do in the second heat was sixth.

Adam Volo and Lena Cash also divided two heats of the 24 pace.

PETTENGILL

"THE GENTLEMAN FROM INDIANA"

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Ladies and Gentlemen of the Convention:

Members of your party and millions of members of my party agree on fundamentals. We are not Fascists, Communists or New Deal National Socialists. We are Americans. And may I remind you that it was your Abraham Lincoln who said, "Soberly it is now no child's play to save the principles of Thomas Jefferson from total overthrow in this nation."

Those principles are nearer to total overthrow now than they were in Lincoln's time. Men in high place in Washington have abandoned the great principles which made Jefferson the inspiration of Lincoln. These include economy in public affairs, low taxes, a minimum of debt, a faithful watch over the public credit, preservation of States Rights and local self-government, respect for Congress, the Constitution and the Courts, the preservation of free enterprise, and a foreign policy of continental Americanism as set forth in the Monroe Doctrine, written by a disciple of Jefferson and on his advice.

May I remind you further that in your first platform adopted in 1856 you dedicated your party to "restoring the action of the Federal government to the principles of Washington and Jefferson." Four years later you repeated that pledge and sent Lincoln to the White House.

That was a good platform. Another was the Democratic platform of 1932. Thousands of Republicans have said it was the best platform written in their life-time. Why don't you reaffirm your platform pledge of 1856 and adopt the Democratic platform of 1932? It has not been used. It is as good as new.

This is no time to be all things to all men. For example, an Eastern Republican told me recently, "The only thing Roosevelt ever did which I approved was the Economy Act of March 1933. But if he will take us into this war he can have his third term." Don't try to write a platform to hold this man's vote. Let the erring brother go.

If you are not a party of sincere opposition, you have no justification in our two party system. You have no place in America. You will deserve defeat and no doubt will get what you deserve. But the Republic will get what it does not deserve, because you failed the Republic.

If, however, you return to first principles and challenge National Socialism in its stronghold in Washington, you will "deserve well of the Republic" whether you win or lose; and you may win.

If you rededicate your party to the "principles of Washington and Jefferson" I particularly commend to your study Washington's Farewell Address and Jefferson's views on foreign affairs.

Said Jefferson: "Let us take our stand on a ground perfectly neutral toward all nations. At this very moment they would have drawn us into a war on the side of England (against France). After plunging us in all the broils of European nations there would remain but one act to close our tragedy, the break-up of our Union."

It is gladly said today that we can not preserve free institutions in a world of dictators. History proves the contrary. Granting that the task may be difficult, now, as then, the fact remains that the Declaration of Independence was written in a time of dictators and to free us from them. George III was a dictator. Napoleon was the 18th Century Hitler. Did not the Louisiana Territory belong to a dictator, and did not Jefferson buy it to remove its menace in foreign hands? And was not the Holy Alliance an early model of the present Rome, Berlin, Moscow axis? Yet the Monroe Doctrine was hurled in the teeth of a Europe in which there was not a single free nation except Switzerland.

We can survive as your fathers did, with Europe under dictatorship, if that be its hard fate, if we but have the stuff our fathers had.

A quarter century ago we departed from the Washington-Jefferson principle. We set forth to save "democracy." May I remind you that in 1918 your party carried both houses of Congress, and that in such states as Indiana, Iowa, and Nebraska, not a single Democrat was elected? May I remind you that after the World War was won Mr. Roosevelt was a candidate for Vice President on a platform to ratify our plunge into European power politics and that he was defeated by a bigger percentage of the two party popular vote than he ever received.

We cannot remain "the land of the free," unless we are "the home of the brave."

In the hands of Lincoln Republicans and Jeffersonian Democrats lies the fate of what Lincoln once nobly called "this last best hope of earth."

Betourne Orchestra
Here Sunday Evening

Earl Betourne and his orchestra, long a favorite with local Dixon Country club dancers, has been engaged by Orrie Stevens to play for the regular Sunday night dance this week at the Dixon Armory. The orchestra is noted for its rhythmic style that varies from sentimental ballads to the most terrific of "swing" tunes. The band boasts many versatile novelty entertainers as well as talented instrumental soloists. Dancers have expressed their delight with the coolness of the Armory. The management has made provisions for cooling the building so that dancing even on the hottest of nights is most enjoyable there.

Retail Business
in Many Illinois
Cities Improved

Washington, June 27.—(AP)—An increase of 5.7 percent in the volume of business transacted in May of this year brought to 8.4 percent the gain for the year to date of 1,319 independent retail stores representing 39 kinds of business in Illinois, the department of commerce announced today.

The sales volume reported last month for the stores, selected as representative of Illinois business, was $9,029,883, an increase of 4.1 percent over April, 1940, sales and 5.7 percent over May, 1939.

Chicago, with 397 reporting stores, had an increase of 6.7 percent in business last month over May, 1939, and 9.2 percent for the first five months of this year over the corresponding months of 1939.

Gains for May, 1940, over May, 1939, for other large Illinois cities included: Peoria, 6.2 percent; Decatur, 15.7; East St. Louis, 8.2; Evanston, 20.7; Rockford, 14.7; Springfield, 9.9; Alton, 6.2; Aurora, 2.2; Bloomington, 3.6; Elgin, 13.2; Joliet, 7.5; Quincy, 1.8; Peoria, 19.0. In all the cities except Decatur, Evanston, and Elgin, the May gain was equal to, or less than, the gain for the year to date.

Declines in May sales from those of May, 1939, were reported for the following: Belleville, 0.7; Galesburg, 7.1; Champaign, 1.7, and Kankakee, 3.2.

Leads Campaign

Civic leaders from all parts of the state are concentrating on the annual campaign of the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness against the sale and unregulated use of fireworks leading up to the Fourth of July.

This was pointed out by Miss Audrey M. Hayden, executive secretary of the society, who said that officers and members of the advisory council of the society show representation from Chicago, Moline, Rockford, Peoria, Urbana, Danville, Winnetka, Elgin, Springfield, Freeport, Rock Island, Aurora, Joliet, Ottawa, Dixon, Alton, Sterling, Lake Forest and Decatur.

In addition, many civic organizations throughout the state are cooperating with the society in its efforts to make the Independence

Day celebration a "safe and sane Fourth", Miss Hayden said.

Officers of the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness are Russell Tyson, president; Dr. Harry S. Cradle, vice president; Herman Waldeck, treasurer; and Miss Audrey M. Hayden, executive secretary.

Included among the members of the advisory council of the society are Mrs. Harry Ainsworth and Mrs. William Butterworth of Moline; Mrs. A. E. Alverson of Rockford; Mrs. F. M. Blossom of Peoria; Miss Fannie Brooks of Springfield; Mrs. Frank W. Butterworth of Danville; Mrs. Benjamin Carpenter of Winnetka; Mrs. Alfred Edwards, Sr., of Elgin; Mrs. James P. Fitzgerald of Highland Park; Mrs. Donald Funk of Springfield; Mrs. Frank Furst of Freeport; Mrs. John Hauberg of Rock Island; Mrs. John T. Mason of Aurora; William Murphy of Joliet; Mrs. Roswell T. Pettit of Ottawa; Mrs. Emory Rockwell of Hinsdale; Mrs. George B. Shaw of Dixon; Miss Eunice E. Smith of Alton; Mrs. LeRoy C. Wheeler of Sterling; Mrs. Farwell Winston of Lake Forest; and W. M. Wood of Decatur.

In Illinois last year there were 458 accidents resulting from fireworks explosions during the Fourth of July celebrations throughout the state. Of thirteen deaths last year, in nine states traceable to fireworks injuries one of the fatalities occurred in Illinois.

The campaign of the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness is directed against the sale and indiscriminate use of fireworks in celebration of the Fourth of July and against the "fireworks bootleggers" who set up stands and booths just outside the corporate limits of Illinois towns where local ordinances restrict their sale.

Snite Must Spend
Rest of Life in
Some "Iron Lung"

Chicago, June 27.—(AP)—Friedrick B. Snite, Jr., 30, must spend the rest of his life in a respirator but his doctor said "he might outlive all of us".

Since has been able to breathe only with the aid of mechanical respirators, full length or chest size, since he was stricken with infantile paralysis four years ago in Peiping, China.

The doctor, an orthopedist who declined use of his name for ethical reasons, said in an interview yesterday, when Snite returned from his winter home in Florida:

"Young Snite knows that his life must be spent in respirators, large or small. x x x There has been a very slow, but definite improvement in those muscles which were not totally paralyzed. Today, with the help of attendants, he can walk slowly across a room and back. He has the possession of all his senses. x x x Sexually, he's as normal as you or I. x x x His face muscles are practically normal."

mal. He eats with an appetite and enjoys life".
Snite and the former Teresa Larkin of Dayton, O., who were married last August, have disclosed they are expecting a child in September.

Two Non-County Agencies Vacate Lee Court House

With the removal of the old age assistance offices and the WPA headquarters from the Lee county court house, but two federal projects remain in the building. As has been previously announced, the old age assistance offices will be moved the end of this week from the first floor of the court house to the Beier building at Hennepin avenue and First street, where a suite of offices will be occupied on the second floor.

The WPA offices, which occupy a small room on the first floor at the court house adjoining the county superintendent of highways department, is to be removed to the township property at Highland avenue and Fourth street, where office space is being arranged. Sheriff Gilbert Finch, who requested the board of supervisors to take action at the June meeting to relieve congested conditions in several departments of the court house, has received notice of the vacation of these departments.

Two WPA projects remain active in the court house, however. In the remodeled vault of the office of Circuit Clerk E. S. Rosecrans, a group of workers are employed on a project which entails the sorting and proper storing of many valuable county records.

Lone WPA Worker

In the office of County Clerk Sterling Schrock, a lone WPA worker who took up his duties last fall, is copying, in long hand, the records of the board of supervisors of Lee county since the organization of the county. At the outset it was expected that this task would be completed in a few weeks, but his progress as reported today, indicated that it would require many months to complete the project, which is reported to be for historical purposes.

With one worker engaged under this project, it was stated at the court house today, this single individual has six supervisors who periodically visit the department to check on the progress of the historical project. Another group of WPA workers several weeks ago completed the historical survey in the court house.

TO SIFT WPA ROLLS

St. Louis, June 27—(AP)—The WPA will sift its rolls to find men qualified for jobs in private industries engaged in the national defense program, Col. F. C. Harrington, WPA commissioner, announced at the agency's national conference which ends today.

WPA employees with experience and talent for work in these industries will be listed in a special register and made available, Harrington said.

fight. Both the stories mentioned above have been categorically denied.

Rumors spring from such thin soil that it doesn't take much to get them started.

I doubt if I should have mentioned these rumors at all were it not for the fact that every day I am bombarded with two questions:

"Do you think England will ask for peace with Hitler?" "Has England a chance to defeat Germany?"

As regards the question of peace, the ministry of information announced "complete disagreement" with the view expressed by United States Senator Pittman, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, that "Britain is totally unprepared for defense." The senator also said, by the way, that "the probability of Hitler's domination of Europe is evident."

The ministry declared that Britain is facing the coming struggle with "confidence." It added that England hasn't "the slightest intention" of laying down her arms without a fight and "is determined to carry the struggle through to a victorious end."

It is my personal view that this is a fair statement of the present attitude of the British government and public toward peace.

But I am bound to say that their present intention (and I repeat that word "present") is going to be put to a very terrible test in the immediate future.

fire for sake of their own safety.

But we must recognize that the bulk of Britain's population of forty-six million is centered in the congested areas of the heart of the country. What will happen if and when the Nazi bombs begin to rain down on this crowded area?

Will the Briton's determination and bravery be able to stand it?

We shall have to wait and see. I think we had better admit now there always is a possibility that it might be necessary to surrender England itself to save slaughter of civilians. Then the government might, as it has declared, transfer its activities to Canada and carry on from there.

Has England a chance to defeat Germany?

In my view, yes. Without question Britain has a terrific task cut out for her, but nobody has this war in a sack yet.

Much will depend upon two things, whether in the first place England's defenses are strong enough to withstand the initial German air assaults, and whether the French navy and air force elect to fight with the British and aren't surrendered to Germany.

The President, pictured above, a new all-steel excursion boat will this summer introduce a new era in river excursions on the upper Mississippi. The President, which will make regular excursion trips from Clinton and Savanna, is described as a marvel of marine architecture, containing many new features for the entertainment and safety of its passengers. It is the largest steamer ever to come up the river.

Latest reports are that much of the navy and many planes are still under British control.

The first all-instrument cross-country flight was recently made by an army officer over a 300-mile course. A Boeing B-7 "flying fortress" plane was used.

Illinois

Illinois has a farm population of 1,017,659. Its farms had a cash income from crops of $178,471,000 in 1938 and $267,128,000 from live stock—a total of $445,599,000 or 6 per cent of the United States.

Illinois produces annually about 72,000,000 pounds of butter.

Illinois paid $23,401,299 in fees for automobiles, trucks, motorcycles and chauffeurs licenses during the first nine months of 1939 or nearly $3,300,000 more than the entire year of 1938. Of the sum, $1,806,780 was for pleasure cars.

Passengers to the number of 307,860 arrived and departed from the Chicago Airport in 1938. Planes used the airport to the number of 32,561.

The average daily attendance of Chicago's 394 public schools is 419,212. Teachers' salaries in 1938 amounted to $33,897,792.

Estimated cost of 25,080 building projects in Illinois in 1938 amounted to $67,229,142. For the first six months of 1939 the amount was $40,725,714.

Illinois had 98,538 stores doing an annual business of $2,173,069,000 with 372,784 employees receiving $263,232,000 in wages.

Illinois has public schools valued at $517,458,200 with an average attendance of 1,132,405 students.

Truck registrations during the first four months of 1940 totaled 194,910 units as compared to 161,984 during the same period of 1939.

SAVES $97.34 ON FOOD WHILE SERVING BETTER MEALS TO HER FAMILY

Wife Establishes New Record, Husband Says by Keeping a Secret for a Year That She Modernized Her Shopping System.

"Make yourself comfortable, Ned. I've got a surprise for you!" The little wife's eyes were shining. "Something I've been bursting to tell you all during the past year!" "That must be a record for a woman keeping a secret," Ned exclaimed. "Is it something serious?"

"No, but it's important and really wonderful! I'd have told you sooner, only I wanted to wait until exactly a year had passed—and that's tonight."

"Come on, sweetheart, spill it. How can I be comfortable under this suspense?"

"All right, Ned. Here it is," Miriam handed him a large envelope. "Money," he gasped. "Lots of it!"

"Yes," Miriam said excitedly, "$97.34."

"Where'd you get it? What bank did you rob?"

"Oh, Ned, I'm so proud of myself. I saved it—out of our food budget. And you never knew it because you've been getting better meals than ever."

"Well, yes, that's right," Ned agreed. "But how did you do it? Maybe you raised food in the backyard?"

"No—I did it by modernizing my food buying," Miriam said, mysteriously. "You know that sounds like magic or something, but I never realized how old-fashioned I was, running all over town, chasing what I thought were 'bargains' in food. You know this new A&P Super Market? I went in there a little over a year ago and discovered that I could shop that whole big store in just a few minutes. It's really like shopping in one—in the one market there's a meat 'store,' a fruit and vegetable 'store,' a bakery 'store,' a grocery 'store,' and a dairy 'store.' Every one of them has wonderful assortments. And I did my shopping there and really started to save money. I didn't tell you why? Well, there's the proof!"

"Looks like A&P Super Markets have what it takes to make folks like us happy," said Ned. "What'll we do with all this money?"

"How about this new rug?" asked Miriam. "Or that new refrigerator? Or a trip this summer? Or—"

Needless to say, Ned and Miriam didn't have much trouble using the money they'd saved by buying food needs in their A&P Super Market. Have you discovered this marvelous new way to get more, live better, yet pay less—this new A&P Super Market way? Try it today. See for yourself the real economies and varieties you can get in these complete new A&P Super Markets—the latest word in food stores, backed by A&P's 80 years' experience in selling food efficiently and economically.

RIZZO, REJECTED BY REDS AND PIRATES, PERFORMS IN BIG STYLE FOR PHILLIES

Philadelphia, June 27—(AP)—Johnny Rizzo—the outfielder Pittsburgh and Cincinnati didn't want—is whaling the daylights out of the ball for the Phillies.
The slugging Italian, traded to the Phils by Cincinnati for Morrie Aronovitch on June 15, joined the Phils on June 18. Since then he has clouted 17 hits in 33 times at bat for a lustrous .515 average, nearly double his season mark of .261 at the time he left the Reds.
His latest feat came in a doubleheader against Pittsburgh yesterday when he belted six hits—including a homer, triple and double—in seven trips to the plate.
The day's work obviously gave Rizzo considerable satisfaction but for Manager Frankie Frisch of the Pirates, it was a double headache. Frisch, who traded Rizzo to Cincinnati for Vince DiMaggio early this year, saw his former leftfielder drive in all of the Phils' four runs in the first game while Cy Blanton, another ex-Pirate, set the Pittsburghers down with 7 safeties and a pair of markers.
DiMaggio, however, pounded out a home run apiece in the opener and nightcap—which the Pirates won 11 to 6—to bring his total for the season to eight, the same number Rizzo has clouted for the Reds and Phils.
Rizzo's season average of .310 leads the Phils who as Manager Doc Prothro has been wont to say on many occasions, are woefully shy on power.

NORTHWESTERN TENNIS ACE IS TOURNAMENT SURPRISE

Haverford, Pa., June 27—(AP)—A 19-year-old southpaw, Seymour Greenberg, is the surprise of the National Intercollegiate tennis championships here.
Overlooked in the seedings, Greenberg bowled over the seventh ranked William Gillespie of Miami university, in the third round yesterday as the original field of 67 was narrowed to 16 in a single day.
Greenberg, a student at Northwestern university and holder of the national public parks championship, eliminated Gillespie in straight sets, 6-1, 6-1.
Greenberg's performance overshadowed victories turned in by top-seeded Don McNeill, of Kenyon; Joe Hunt, of Navy; and Frank Guernsey, the defending champion from Rice Institute.
